

TUESDAY, MAY 18, 1861.

A SOUTHERN BANNER.
If the people of Chicago and the North could not find opportunity to serve themselves a victory on national grounds, they will bitterly rue the day that they are overcome by their folly. The losses and disabilities of a change from rag money to real money are already here and in their full force. There is an almost entire suspension of business and distress among men who have been educated, and no inconsiderable amount of suffering on the part of the laboring poor; but every day, from this time forward, will bring with it an increasing pressure on the country's financial condition. Gold goes into circulation by the necessities of the hour, while it will become more plenty, the bulk of the solvent specie-paying banks of Indiana and Ohio, will temporarily flow in to fill up the vacuum which the failure of the Bank of Illinois and Wisconsin has created; and notes now discounted will be picked up by speculators at a trifle below their actual value. In about thirty days will not elapse before the country will find relief. If we go now back however, and the losses now endured will be repaid, and the people will again need the same services that we give them now. To-day the same question has passed out of the domain of bankers and the owners of the rag-money power over it is vested in the people. We do not want to see them re-qualify if by agreement to any arrangement that will not verify the mathematical axioms— one hundred cents are a dollar. A good currency is theirs if the demand it, and now is the time to make our demand.

It has ever been the misfortune of the business of public office that their pecuniary necessities have overriden their pecuniary sense; and that in view of a doubtful present advantage, they have been ready and willing to sacrifice a permanent good. This disposition to temporize with an acknowledged evil— to put off the removal of the nest-crop—has become general. They are like the Arkanas man who would not mend his house when it rained, and who did not mend it when the sun was shining. Of this the speculators in bad money and popular forbearance have never failed to take advantage, and if Chicago, of all cities on the continent, and Illinois, of all the States, have not been the most wretched currency, from the change of the first bank down to the present moment, the speculators themselves are only to blame. There are always men enough anxious to make money by public sufferances, and when one class is played out another is sure to spring ready, with a slight modification of tactics, to play the old game over again and plumb the confounding once more. It is time now to stop this method of doing business, and to turn the ground on which other men's communities stand, and strike for a currency that is convertible, at the pleasure of the owner, into gold; and if the bankers and dealers in grain, who are sending up loud lamentations over the existing state of affairs, will drop their complaints, send forward the grain, feed, pork, flour, lard, seeds, hops, and all the articles of commerce which the country has plenty, converts the bills of exchange into cash, or if they will, put the Board of Trade on a specific basis, the trouble will be ended. People in the West and over the sea must eat, and the world will supply them. They pay for what we have, and we sell—if not in gold, in equivalent, and there exists no good and sufficient reason why we should not do so.

The West, who grow the grain, have the cattle, and feed the hogs, should not have gold, or its equivalent, also.

We know no law against paying the farmer, mechanic and laborer good money—men who are entitled to the merchant to submit to a condition of things which rob him of his profits by means of exorbitant rates of exchange.

which makes everybody held still while the irresponsible makers of "currency" run the life out of community.

Others may conclude that the Tariff is fair a specie-basis. It is, and we see no way in which it can be avoided by any sticking up of lists in which bank bills worth ninety cents or eighty cents, are, by some means, to be prepared to represent a dollar.

All arrangements of that sort are repugnant to the principles of justice, and all men who are not blind to the fact that the speculators in bad money and popular forbearance have never failed to take advantage, and if Chicago, of all cities on the continent, and Illinois, of all the States, have not been the most wretched currency, from the change of the first bank down to the present moment, the speculators themselves are only to blame. There are always men enough anxious to make money by public sufferances, and when one class is played out another is sure to spring ready, with a slight modification of tactics, to play the old game over again and plumb the confounding once more. It is time now to stop this method of doing business, and to turn the ground on which other men's communities stand, and strike for a currency that is convertible, at the pleasure of the owner, into gold; and if the bankers and dealers in grain, who are sending up loud lamentations over the existing state of affairs, will drop their complaints, send forward the grain, feed, pork, flour, lard, seeds, hops, and all the articles of commerce which the country has plenty, converts the bills of exchange into cash, or if they will, put the Board of Trade on a specific basis, the trouble will be ended. People in the West and over the sea must eat, and the world will supply them. They pay for what we have, and we sell—if not in gold, in equivalent, and there exists no good and sufficient reason why we should not do so.

The West, who grow the grain, have the cattle, and feed the hogs, should not have gold, or its equivalent, also.

We know no law against paying the farmer, mechanic and laborer good money—men who are entitled to the merchant to submit to a condition of things which rob him of his profits by means of exorbitant rates of exchange.

which makes everybody held still while the irresponsible makers of "currency" run the life out of community.

The West, who grow the grain, have the cattle, and feed the hogs, should not have gold, or its equivalent, also.

We know no law against paying the farmer, mechanic and laborer good money—men who are entitled to the merchant to submit to a condition of things which rob him of his profits by means of exorbitant rates of exchange.

which makes everybody held still while the irresponsible makers of "currency" run the life out of community.

The West, who grow the grain, have the cattle, and feed the hogs, should not have gold, or its equivalent, also.

We know no law against paying the farmer, mechanic and laborer good money—men who are entitled to the merchant to submit to a condition of things which rob him of his profits by means of exorbitant rates of exchange.

which makes everybody held still while the irresponsible makers of "currency" run the life out of community.

The West, who grow the grain, have the cattle, and feed the hogs, should not have gold, or its equivalent, also.

We know no law against paying the farmer, mechanic and laborer good money—men who are entitled to the merchant to submit to a condition of things which rob him of his profits by means of exorbitant rates of exchange.

which makes everybody held still while the irresponsible makers of "currency" run the life out of community.

The West, who grow the grain, have the cattle, and feed the hogs, should not have gold, or its equivalent, also.

We know no law against paying the farmer, mechanic and laborer good money—men who are entitled to the merchant to submit to a condition of things which rob him of his profits by means of exorbitant rates of exchange.

which makes everybody held still while the irresponsible makers of "currency" run the life out of community.

The West, who grow the grain, have the cattle, and feed the hogs, should not have gold, or its equivalent, also.

We know no law against paying the farmer, mechanic and laborer good money—men who are entitled to the merchant to submit to a condition of things which rob him of his profits by means of exorbitant rates of exchange.

which makes everybody held still while the irresponsible makers of "currency" run the life out of community.

The West, who grow the grain, have the cattle, and feed the hogs, should not have gold, or its equivalent, also.

We know no law against paying the farmer, mechanic and laborer good money—men who are entitled to the merchant to submit to a condition of things which rob him of his profits by means of exorbitant rates of exchange.

which makes everybody held still while the irresponsible makers of "currency" run the life out of community.

The West, who grow the grain, have the cattle, and feed the hogs, should not have gold, or its equivalent, also.

We know no law against paying the farmer, mechanic and laborer good money—men who are entitled to the merchant to submit to a condition of things which rob him of his profits by means of exorbitant rates of exchange.

which makes everybody held still while the irresponsible makers of "currency" run the life out of community.

The West, who grow the grain, have the cattle, and feed the hogs, should not have gold, or its equivalent, also.

We know no law against paying the farmer, mechanic and laborer good money—men who are entitled to the merchant to submit to a condition of things which rob him of his profits by means of exorbitant rates of exchange.

which makes everybody held still while the irresponsible makers of "currency" run the life out of community.

The West, who grow the grain, have the cattle, and feed the hogs, should not have gold, or its equivalent, also.

We know no law against paying the farmer, mechanic and laborer good money—men who are entitled to the merchant to submit to a condition of things which rob him of his profits by means of exorbitant rates of exchange.

which makes everybody held still while the irresponsible makers of "currency" run the life out of community.

The West, who grow the grain, have the cattle, and feed the hogs, should not have gold, or its equivalent, also.

We know no law against paying the farmer, mechanic and laborer good money—men who are entitled to the merchant to submit to a condition of things which rob him of his profits by means of exorbitant rates of exchange.

which makes everybody held still while the irresponsible makers of "currency" run the life out of community.

The West, who grow the grain, have the cattle, and feed the hogs, should not have gold, or its equivalent, also.

We know no law against paying the farmer, mechanic and laborer good money—men who are entitled to the merchant to submit to a condition of things which rob him of his profits by means of exorbitant rates of exchange.

which makes everybody held still while the irresponsible makers of "currency" run the life out of community.

The West, who grow the grain, have the cattle, and feed the hogs, should not have gold, or its equivalent, also.

We know no law against paying the farmer, mechanic and laborer good money—men who are entitled to the merchant to submit to a condition of things which rob him of his profits by means of exorbitant rates of exchange.

which makes everybody held still while the irresponsible makers of "currency" run the life out of community.

The West, who grow the grain, have the cattle, and feed the hogs, should not have gold, or its equivalent, also.

We know no law against paying the farmer, mechanic and laborer good money—men who are entitled to the merchant to submit to a condition of things which rob him of his profits by means of exorbitant rates of exchange.

which makes everybody held still while the irresponsible makers of "currency" run the life out of community.

The West, who grow the grain, have the cattle, and feed the hogs, should not have gold, or its equivalent, also.

We know no law against paying the farmer, mechanic and laborer good money—men who are entitled to the merchant to submit to a condition of things which rob him of his profits by means of exorbitant rates of exchange.

which makes everybody held still while the irresponsible makers of "currency" run the life out of community.

The West, who grow the grain, have the cattle, and feed the hogs, should not have gold, or its equivalent, also.

We know no law against paying the farmer, mechanic and laborer good money—men who are entitled to the merchant to submit to a condition of things which rob him of his profits by means of exorbitant rates of exchange.

which makes everybody held still while the irresponsible makers of "currency" run the life out of community.

The West, who grow the grain, have the cattle, and feed the hogs, should not have gold, or its equivalent, also.

We know no law against paying the farmer, mechanic and laborer good money—men who are entitled to the merchant to submit to a condition of things which rob him of his profits by means of exorbitant rates of exchange.

which makes everybody held still while the irresponsible makers of "currency" run the life out of community.

The West, who grow the grain, have the cattle, and feed the hogs, should not have gold, or its equivalent, also.

We know no law against paying the farmer, mechanic and laborer good money—men who are entitled to the merchant to submit to a condition of things which rob him of his profits by means of exorbitant rates of exchange.

which makes everybody held still while the irresponsible makers of "currency" run the life out of community.

The West, who grow the grain, have the cattle, and feed the hogs, should not have gold, or its equivalent, also.

We know no law against paying the farmer, mechanic and laborer good money—men who are entitled to the merchant to submit to a condition of things which rob him of his profits by means of exorbitant rates of exchange.

which makes everybody held still while the irresponsible makers of "currency" run the life out of community.

The West, who grow the grain, have the cattle, and feed the hogs, should not have gold, or its equivalent, also.

We know no law against paying the farmer, mechanic and laborer good money—men who are entitled to the merchant to submit to a condition of things which rob him of his profits by means of exorbitant rates of exchange.

which makes everybody held still while the irresponsible makers of "currency" run the life out of community.

The West, who grow the grain, have the cattle, and feed the hogs, should not have gold, or its equivalent, also.

We know no law against paying the farmer, mechanic and laborer good money—men who are entitled to the merchant to submit to a condition of things which rob him of his profits by means of exorbitant rates of exchange.

which makes everybody held still while the irresponsible makers of "currency" run the life out of community.

The West, who grow the grain, have the cattle, and feed the hogs, should not have gold, or its equivalent, also.

We know no law against paying the farmer, mechanic and laborer good money—men who are entitled to the merchant to submit to a condition of things which rob him of his profits by means of exorbitant rates of exchange.

which makes everybody held still while the irresponsible makers of "currency" run the life out of community.

The West, who grow the grain, have the cattle, and feed the hogs, should not have gold, or its equivalent, also.

We know no law against paying the farmer, mechanic and laborer good money—men who are entitled to the merchant to submit to a condition of things which rob him of his profits by means of exorbitant rates of exchange.

which makes everybody held still while the irresponsible makers of "currency" run the life out of community.

The West, who grow the grain, have the cattle, and feed the hogs, should not have gold, or its equivalent, also.

We know no law against paying the farmer, mechanic and laborer good money—men who are entitled to the merchant to submit to a condition of things which rob him of his profits by means of exorbitant rates of exchange.

which makes everybody held still while the irresponsible makers of "currency" run the life out of community.

The West, who grow the grain, have the cattle, and feed the hogs, should not have gold, or its equivalent, also.

We know no law against paying the farmer, mechanic and laborer good money—men who are entitled to the merchant to submit to a condition of things which rob him of his profits by means of exorbitant rates of exchange.

which makes everybody held still while the irresponsible makers of "currency" run the life out of community.

The West, who grow the grain, have the cattle, and feed the hogs, should not have gold, or its equivalent, also.

We know no law against paying the farmer, mechanic and laborer good money—men who are entitled to the merchant to submit to a condition of things which rob him of his profits by means of exorbitant rates of exchange.

which makes everybody held still while the irresponsible makers of "currency" run the life out of community.

The West, who grow the grain, have the cattle, and feed the hogs, should not have gold, or its equivalent, also.

We know no law against paying the farmer, mechanic and laborer good money—men who are entitled to the merchant to submit to a condition of things which rob him of his profits by means of exorbitant rates of exchange.

which makes everybody held still while the irresponsible makers of "currency" run the life out of community.

The West, who grow the grain, have the cattle, and feed the hogs, should not have gold, or its equivalent, also.

We know no law against paying the farmer, mechanic and laborer good money—men who are entitled to the merchant to submit to a condition of things which rob him of his profits by means of exorbitant rates of exchange.

which makes everybody held still while the irresponsible makers of "currency" run the life out of community.

The West, who grow the grain, have the cattle, and feed the hogs, should not have gold, or its equivalent, also.

We know no law against paying the farmer, mechanic and laborer good money—men who are entitled to the merchant to submit to a condition of things which rob him of his profits by means of exorbitant rates of exchange.

which makes everybody held still while the irresponsible makers of "currency" run the life out of community.

The West, who grow the grain, have the cattle, and feed the hogs, should not have gold, or its equivalent, also.

We know no law against paying the farmer, mechanic and laborer good money—men who are entitled to the merchant to submit to a condition of things which rob him of his profits by means of exorbitant rates of exchange.

which makes everybody held still while the irresponsible makers of "currency" run the life out of community.

The West, who grow the grain, have the cattle, and feed the hogs, should not have gold, or its equivalent, also.

We know no law against paying the farmer, mechanic and laborer good money—men who are entitled to the merchant to submit to a condition of things which rob him of his profits by means of exorbitant rates of exchange.

which makes everybody held still while the irresponsible makers of "currency" run the life out of community.

The West, who grow the grain, have the cattle, and feed the hogs, should not have gold, or its equivalent, also.

We know no law against paying the farmer, mechanic and laborer good money—men who are entitled to the merchant to submit to a condition of things which rob him of his profits by means of exorbitant rates of exchange.

which makes everybody held still while the irresponsible makers of "currency" run the life out of community.

The West, who grow the grain, have the cattle, and feed the hogs, should not have gold, or its equivalent, also.

We know no law against paying the farmer, mechanic and laborer

Chicago Tribune

THURSDAY, MAY 22, 1861.

THE CITY.

WATER.—A lot to carry a small rock on the River Detroit. Will be paid by the week: apply to the owner.

FEAR.—Last evening an alarm of fire was given by the bursting of a small building on the other roof.

PERSONAL.—Alice Butler, Mrs. of the New York Central Railroad, was at the Tremont House yesterday.

THE UNITED STATES STEAMER MICHIGAN.—Left Chicago for Milwaukee this morning. Will arrive in that port in a few days.

RAILROAD.—The Fire Department was not at all surprised when T. P. M. passed by a scene of fire proceeding from a chimney on fire on North Dearborn street.

PROSECUTION OF UNIONISTS.—Several dozen parties have within a few days past, been sued in the County Court for violation of the Neutrality Ordinance. Look to the lawyer.

A REFLECTION.—In view of the present society of cities it is hard to credit the statement we have often heard, that this is a world of change.

THE BALTIMORE GUARDS.—A company is being enlisted to call the Baltimore Guards from a well known citizen who is to see them armed and equipped.

CHICAGO AND NEBRASKA RAILROAD.—Major C. N. Hoadly succeeds Miss Hill, Esq., in the Superintendence of the Chicago, Iowa and Nebraska Railroad, the latter having resigned.

THE NEW YORKERS.—We learn that the New Yorkers, Chicago, are enlisted, and now only await the arrival of the organ, to be in readiness for dedication and occupancy. The organ will be received in a day or two, being now.

WATER STATIONARY.—McNally at St. Dunbar street, has in addition to the usual patriotic stationery, several patriotic styles of envelopes and letter paper that the ladies will appreciate.

FIRE.—An extensive brushy system of incendiary devices, set by Mr. Robert, on a site also between Union and Halsted streets, near Kinzie, was consumed by fire. Loss about $100. The fire was caused by a defect.

Mrs. CAROLINE BIRKINBACH.—Talented vocalist and artist performer has engaged the services of Mr. McVicker, of the Park Theatre, for her appearance. The performance is a most excellent one. See advertisement.

AT KENSINGTON HALL.—The Diagram of the bombardment of Fort Sumter, and of the Civil War in Syria, is still on exhibition at Kensington Hall, and well attended. Every boy speaks of it in delighted terms. It is worth seeing by everybody and his wife and little folks.

SWEATSHIRTS.—Drabs (here to be dry) treated his guests at the Tremont yesterday with some strawberries, received by Rollins, Jacobs & Co., wholesale fruit dealers, 16th street and Halsted from Frank Madsen, East 10th. They are the London, Paris, Pineapple, and Washington varieties.

DR. BRAUNSTEIN'S LECTURES ON MINISTERIALISM.—A large and interested audience listened to Dr. Braunstein's opening lecture of his course on Military Surgery, at Rush Medical College, yesterday afternoon, mostly made up of medical students. The lecture was delivered in an excellent manner, and was received with unanimous approbation.

THE BRITISH BRIGADE.—The British

Brigade (here to be dry) treated his guests at the Tremont yesterday with some strawberries, received by Rollins, Jacobs & Co., wholesale fruit dealers, 16th street and Halsted from Frank Madsen, East 10th. They are the London, Paris, Pineapple, and Washington varieties.

THE BRITISH BRIGADE.—The British

Brigade (here to be dry) treated his guests at the Tremont yesterday with some strawberries, received by Rollins, Jacobs & Co., wholesale fruit dealers, 16th street and Halsted from Frank Madsen, East 10th. They are the London, Paris, Pineapple, and Washington varieties.

HOOTON & HORN.—From the enterprising firm of Hooton & Horn, 101 Duane street, we have ready made lists of the most interesting, several excellent maps of the seat of war, and other localities of interest. They have also a new issue of Hooton's Tactics, to guide the soldier in all the usual large variety of operations.

THE COURTS HOUSE HOTEL.—The new safe and comfortable Court House square begins to look more promising than it has ever before seen it. When the fountains are set at work some other than the three-judge system shall publicize, after a credit to the city.

A MINUTE VARIETY.—On Tuesday night a haphazardly disposed military band, under the direction of Captain J. A. Wright, on North Clark street, above Chicago avenue, fortunately its operations were interrupted by the late entrance of two young men, bachelors in the family, who, coming in at the hall door, after a brief little talk, went straight to the bar.

AN HONOR TO CHICAGO.—While a letter just received from the Post Office Department, that at the making of the new movement the Capitol at Washington, to come of this week, the new uniform of the "Union, God and Liberty," words by Mr. W. H. Bailey, and written by E. Walter Martin, this city, is to be sung, the entire military and citizens joining in the chorus :

"O! if you have a heart, if you have a soul,
With its blood and crimson here,
Still trample on its stars."

VOYAGE FOR IMMEDIATE SERVICE.—Col. J. D. Wyman's Regiment, now at Camp Dennett, Dixie, have been accepted by the United States, and are to be mustered into the service for the term of three years, and camp until their sailing through the winter in New Orleans and Mobile. The men, though not yet mustered, were to be marched to the nearest service. Lieut. William was detailed to 10 a.m. to day at George Colly's saloon on Randolph street opposite the Tribune.

NOTES OF ADVICE.—Romance and mystery, the life of the soldier, and a slender figure, at 10 Clark street, left this city last fall and followed their calling through the winter in New Orleans and Mobile. They are now to stand to the stars and stripes, how shall we like for citizens who, but for public opinion, would think them in error?

A RECENTLY ARRIVED.—A young man, nearly seventeen, recently arrived from the interior of Illinois, on the shores of Lake Michigan, to the city, instead of the lake, and at once took leave and left. When asked where he had been, he said he had been to the city to see his mother, who, he said, was to be married to a man in the army.

THE BRITISH BRIGADE.—The British

Brigade (here to be dry) treated his guests at the Tremont yesterday with some strawberries, received by Rollins, Jacobs & Co., wholesale fruit dealers, 16th street and Halsted from Frank Madsen, East 10th. They are the London, Paris, Pineapple, and Washington varieties.

THE BRITISH BRIGADE.—The British

Brigade (here to be dry) treated his guests at the Tremont yesterday with some strawberries, received by Rollins, Jacobs & Co., wholesale fruit dealers, 16th street and Halsted from Frank Madsen, East 10th. They are the London, Paris, Pineapple, and Washington varieties.

THE BRITISH BRIGADE.—The British

Brigade (here to be dry) treated his guests at the Tremont yesterday with some strawberries, received by Rollins, Jacobs & Co., wholesale fruit dealers, 16th street and Halsted from Frank Madsen, East 10th. They are the London, Paris, Pineapple, and Washington varieties.

THE BRITISH BRIGADE.—The British

Brigade (here to be dry) treated his guests at the Tremont yesterday with some strawberries, received by Rollins, Jacobs & Co., wholesale fruit dealers, 16th street and Halsted from Frank Madsen, East 10th. They are the London, Paris, Pineapple, and Washington varieties.

THE BRITISH BRIGADE.—The British

Brigade (here to be dry) treated his guests at the Tremont yesterday with some strawberries, received by Rollins, Jacobs & Co., wholesale fruit dealers, 16th street and Halsted from Frank Madsen, East 10th. They are the London, Paris, Pineapple, and Washington varieties.

THE BRITISH BRIGADE.—The British

Brigade (here to be dry) treated his guests at the Tremont yesterday with some strawberries, received by Rollins, Jacobs & Co., wholesale fruit dealers, 16th street and Halsted from Frank Madsen, East 10th. They are the London, Paris, Pineapple, and Washington varieties.

THE BRITISH BRIGADE.—The British

Brigade (here to be dry) treated his guests at the Tremont yesterday with some strawberries, received by Rollins, Jacobs & Co., wholesale fruit dealers, 16th street and Halsted from Frank Madsen, East 10th. They are the London, Paris, Pineapple, and Washington varieties.

THE BRITISH BRIGADE.—The British

Brigade (here to be dry) treated his guests at the Tremont yesterday with some strawberries, received by Rollins, Jacobs & Co., wholesale fruit dealers, 16th street and Halsted from Frank Madsen, East 10th. They are the London, Paris, Pineapple, and Washington varieties.

THE BRITISH BRIGADE.—The British

Brigade (here to be dry) treated his guests at the Tremont yesterday with some strawberries, received by Rollins, Jacobs & Co., wholesale fruit dealers, 16th street and Halsted from Frank Madsen, East 10th. They are the London, Paris, Pineapple, and Washington varieties.

THE BRITISH BRIGADE.—The British

Brigade (here to be dry) treated his guests at the Tremont yesterday with some strawberries, received by Rollins, Jacobs & Co., wholesale fruit dealers, 16th street and Halsted from Frank Madsen, East 10th. They are the London, Paris, Pineapple, and Washington varieties.

THE BRITISH BRIGADE.—The British

Brigade (here to be dry) treated his guests at the Tremont yesterday with some strawberries, received by Rollins, Jacobs & Co., wholesale fruit dealers, 16th street and Halsted from Frank Madsen, East 10th. They are the London, Paris, Pineapple, and Washington varieties.

STUMP-TAIL ANNALS.

Amherst writes Boston and Market Agents.

The stump tail is of its height, and we shall say its depth. It is the all-pervading idea of the town; overgrown with weeds, and spreading out like a great swamp. The light is dim, and the sky is darker, and the air is thicker, but the trees are taller, and the bushes are higher, and the ground is deeper, and the stones are larger, and the roots are deeper, and the soil is deeper, and the water is deeper, and the air is deeper, and the sky is deeper, and the clouds are deeper, and the sun is deeper, and the moon is deeper, and the stars are deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sea is deeper, and the land is deeper, and the hills are deeper, and the mountains are deeper, and the plains are deeper, and the valleys are deeper, and the rivers are deeper, and the lakes are deeper, and the oceans are deeper, and the atmosphere is deeper, and the air is deeper, and the water is deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sky is deeper, and the clouds are deeper, and the sun is deeper, and the moon is deeper, and the stars are deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sea is deeper, and the land is deeper, and the hills are deeper, and the mountains are deeper, and the plains are deeper, and the valleys are deeper, and the rivers are deeper, and the lakes are deeper, and the oceans are deeper, and the atmosphere is deeper, and the air is deeper, and the water is deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sky is deeper, and the clouds are deeper, and the sun is deeper, and the moon is deeper, and the stars are deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sea is deeper, and the land is deeper, and the hills are deeper, and the mountains are deeper, and the plains are deeper, and the valleys are deeper, and the rivers are deeper, and the lakes are deeper, and the oceans are deeper, and the atmosphere is deeper, and the air is deeper, and the water is deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sky is deeper, and the clouds are deeper, and the sun is deeper, and the moon is deeper, and the stars are deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sea is deeper, and the land is deeper, and the hills are deeper, and the mountains are deeper, and the plains are deeper, and the valleys are deeper, and the rivers are deeper, and the lakes are deeper, and the oceans are deeper, and the atmosphere is deeper, and the air is deeper, and the water is deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sky is deeper, and the clouds are deeper, and the sun is deeper, and the moon is deeper, and the stars are deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sea is deeper, and the land is deeper, and the hills are deeper, and the mountains are deeper, and the plains are deeper, and the valleys are deeper, and the rivers are deeper, and the lakes are deeper, and the oceans are deeper, and the atmosphere is deeper, and the air is deeper, and the water is deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sky is deeper, and the clouds are deeper, and the sun is deeper, and the moon is deeper, and the stars are deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sea is deeper, and the land is deeper, and the hills are deeper, and the mountains are deeper, and the plains are deeper, and the valleys are deeper, and the rivers are deeper, and the lakes are deeper, and the oceans are deeper, and the atmosphere is deeper, and the air is deeper, and the water is deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sky is deeper, and the clouds are deeper, and the sun is deeper, and the moon is deeper, and the stars are deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sea is deeper, and the land is deeper, and the hills are deeper, and the mountains are deeper, and the plains are deeper, and the valleys are deeper, and the rivers are deeper, and the lakes are deeper, and the oceans are deeper, and the atmosphere is deeper, and the air is deeper, and the water is deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sky is deeper, and the clouds are deeper, and the sun is deeper, and the moon is deeper, and the stars are deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sea is deeper, and the land is deeper, and the hills are deeper, and the mountains are deeper, and the plains are deeper, and the valleys are deeper, and the rivers are deeper, and the lakes are deeper, and the oceans are deeper, and the atmosphere is deeper, and the air is deeper, and the water is deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sky is deeper, and the clouds are deeper, and the sun is deeper, and the moon is deeper, and the stars are deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sea is deeper, and the land is deeper, and the hills are deeper, and the mountains are deeper, and the plains are deeper, and the valleys are deeper, and the rivers are deeper, and the lakes are deeper, and the oceans are deeper, and the atmosphere is deeper, and the air is deeper, and the water is deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sky is deeper, and the clouds are deeper, and the sun is deeper, and the moon is deeper, and the stars are deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sea is deeper, and the land is deeper, and the hills are deeper, and the mountains are deeper, and the plains are deeper, and the valleys are deeper, and the rivers are deeper, and the lakes are deeper, and the oceans are deeper, and the atmosphere is deeper, and the air is deeper, and the water is deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sky is deeper, and the clouds are deeper, and the sun is deeper, and the moon is deeper, and the stars are deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sea is deeper, and the land is deeper, and the hills are deeper, and the mountains are deeper, and the plains are deeper, and the valleys are deeper, and the rivers are deeper, and the lakes are deeper, and the oceans are deeper, and the atmosphere is deeper, and the air is deeper, and the water is deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sky is deeper, and the clouds are deeper, and the sun is deeper, and the moon is deeper, and the stars are deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sea is deeper, and the land is deeper, and the hills are deeper, and the mountains are deeper, and the plains are deeper, and the valleys are deeper, and the rivers are deeper, and the lakes are deeper, and the oceans are deeper, and the atmosphere is deeper, and the air is deeper, and the water is deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sky is deeper, and the clouds are deeper, and the sun is deeper, and the moon is deeper, and the stars are deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sea is deeper, and the land is deeper, and the hills are deeper, and the mountains are deeper, and the plains are deeper, and the valleys are deeper, and the rivers are deeper, and the lakes are deeper, and the oceans are deeper, and the atmosphere is deeper, and the air is deeper, and the water is deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sky is deeper, and the clouds are deeper, and the sun is deeper, and the moon is deeper, and the stars are deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sea is deeper, and the land is deeper, and the hills are deeper, and the mountains are deeper, and the plains are deeper, and the valleys are deeper, and the rivers are deeper, and the lakes are deeper, and the oceans are deeper, and the atmosphere is deeper, and the air is deeper, and the water is deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sky is deeper, and the clouds are deeper, and the sun is deeper, and the moon is deeper, and the stars are deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sea is deeper, and the land is deeper, and the hills are deeper, and the mountains are deeper, and the plains are deeper, and the valleys are deeper, and the rivers are deeper, and the lakes are deeper, and the oceans are deeper, and the atmosphere is deeper, and the air is deeper, and the water is deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sky is deeper, and the clouds are deeper, and the sun is deeper, and the moon is deeper, and the stars are deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sea is deeper, and the land is deeper, and the hills are deeper, and the mountains are deeper, and the plains are deeper, and the valleys are deeper, and the rivers are deeper, and the lakes are deeper, and the oceans are deeper, and the atmosphere is deeper, and the air is deeper, and the water is deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sky is deeper, and the clouds are deeper, and the sun is deeper, and the moon is deeper, and the stars are deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sea is deeper, and the land is deeper, and the hills are deeper, and the mountains are deeper, and the plains are deeper, and the valleys are deeper, and the rivers are deeper, and the lakes are deeper, and the oceans are deeper, and the atmosphere is deeper, and the air is deeper, and the water is deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sky is deeper, and the clouds are deeper, and the sun is deeper, and the moon is deeper, and the stars are deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sea is deeper, and the land is deeper, and the hills are deeper, and the mountains are deeper, and the plains are deeper, and the valleys are deeper, and the rivers are deeper, and the lakes are deeper, and the oceans are deeper, and the atmosphere is deeper, and the air is deeper, and the water is deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sky is deeper, and the clouds are deeper, and the sun is deeper, and the moon is deeper, and the stars are deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sea is deeper, and the land is deeper, and the hills are deeper, and the mountains are deeper, and the plains are deeper, and the valleys are deeper, and the rivers are deeper, and the lakes are deeper, and the oceans are deeper, and the atmosphere is deeper, and the air is deeper, and the water is deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sky is deeper, and the clouds are deeper, and the sun is deeper, and the moon is deeper, and the stars are deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sea is deeper, and the land is deeper, and the hills are deeper, and the mountains are deeper, and the plains are deeper, and the valleys are deeper, and the rivers are deeper, and the lakes are deeper, and the oceans are deeper, and the atmosphere is deeper, and the air is deeper, and the water is deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sky is deeper, and the clouds are deeper, and the sun is deeper, and the moon is deeper, and the stars are deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sea is deeper, and the land is deeper, and the hills are deeper, and the mountains are deeper, and the plains are deeper, and the valleys are deeper, and the rivers are deeper, and the lakes are deeper, and the oceans are deeper, and the atmosphere is deeper, and the air is deeper, and the water is deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sky is deeper, and the clouds are deeper, and the sun is deeper, and the moon is deeper, and the stars are deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sea is deeper, and the land is deeper, and the hills are deeper, and the mountains are deeper, and the plains are deeper, and the valleys are deeper, and the rivers are deeper, and the lakes are deeper, and the oceans are deeper, and the atmosphere is deeper, and the air is deeper, and the water is deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sky is deeper, and the clouds are deeper, and the sun is deeper, and the moon is deeper, and the stars are deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sea is deeper, and the land is deeper, and the hills are deeper, and the mountains are deeper, and the plains are deeper, and the valleys are deeper, and the rivers are deeper, and the lakes are deeper, and the oceans are deeper, and the atmosphere is deeper, and the air is deeper, and the water is deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sky is deeper, and the clouds are deeper, and the sun is deeper, and the moon is deeper, and the stars are deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sea is deeper, and the land is deeper, and the hills are deeper, and the mountains are deeper, and the plains are deeper, and the valleys are deeper, and the rivers are deeper, and the lakes are deeper, and the oceans are deeper, and the atmosphere is deeper, and the air is deeper, and the water is deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sky is deeper, and the clouds are deeper, and the sun is deeper, and the moon is deeper, and the stars are deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sea is deeper, and the land is deeper, and the hills are deeper, and the mountains are deeper, and the plains are deeper, and the valleys are deeper, and the rivers are deeper, and the lakes are deeper, and the oceans are deeper, and the atmosphere is deeper, and the air is deeper, and the water is deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sky is deeper, and the clouds are deeper, and the sun is deeper, and the moon is deeper, and the stars are deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sea is deeper, and the land is deeper, and the hills are deeper, and the mountains are deeper, and the plains are deeper, and the valleys are deeper, and the rivers are deeper, and the lakes are deeper, and the oceans are deeper, and the atmosphere is deeper, and the air is deeper, and the water is deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sky is deeper, and the clouds are deeper, and the sun is deeper, and the moon is deeper, and the stars are deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sea is deeper, and the land is deeper, and the hills are deeper, and the mountains are deeper, and the plains are deeper, and the valleys are deeper, and the rivers are deeper, and the lakes are deeper, and the oceans are deeper, and the atmosphere is deeper, and the air is deeper, and the water is deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sky is deeper, and the clouds are deeper, and the sun is deeper, and the moon is deeper, and the stars are deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sea is deeper, and the land is deeper, and the hills are deeper, and the mountains are deeper, and the plains are deeper, and the valleys are deeper, and the rivers are deeper, and the lakes are deeper, and the oceans are deeper, and the atmosphere is deeper, and the air is deeper, and the water is deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sky is deeper, and the clouds are deeper, and the sun is deeper, and the moon is deeper, and the stars are deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sea is deeper, and the land is deeper, and the hills are deeper, and the mountains are deeper, and the plains are deeper, and the valleys are deeper, and the rivers are deeper, and the lakes are deeper, and the oceans are deeper, and the atmosphere is deeper, and the air is deeper, and the water is deeper, and the earth is deeper, and the sky is deeper, and the clouds are deeper, and

Chicago Tribune.

CHICAGO, THURSDAY, MAY 23, 1861.

NUMBER 9.

VOLUME XV.

the whole State, we do not—say—desire for the division, unless it be to save a large majority of the people from the tyranny and oppression of the slaveholders of the east. That may be desirable; but it must be the work of the people themselves, not of outside influences which the Government may bring to bear. But whatever the right in which the movement may be regarded, it is now exceedingly grave, and the existence of the prevalence of a strong, or perhaps dominant, Union party in a locality where it is so much needed as a balance to the treason which is rampant on the other side of the Blue Ridge.

THE COTTON QUESTION.

A late number of the Savannah News speaks of the enormous power to be attained by the traitors from the sale of 4,000,000 bales of cotton, when Great Britain should keep blockade. Will Great Britain? The question is, will she? Will Great Britain should keep blockade, and not molest the blockade at all?

LOUIS MARS, PRACTIC OPTICAL.

Opposite the Green Room, South Clark Street.

W. A. FREEMAN, D.

100 W. Washington Street.

REMOVED TO NO.

100 W. Washington Street.

